Missile Site Work Sheets Now at BCD

Work sheets are available at the Board of Community Development office for anyone interested in applying for work at one of the Missiles construction sites in this area.

The work sheets must be filled out and taken to the Texas Employment Commission office in Abilene, according to Donald W. Hawkins, manager.

Picking up the forms here and filling them out before going to the Abilene office will speed up processing of work applications.

At a meeting called Thursday by B. V. Newberry, board president, and attended by local civic leaders it was decided that the first concern of the Hamlin BCD should be helping the local citizens obtain work on the project.

Other activities of the meeting included a discussion of the housing facilities that might be available for workers on either the project located near Anson or the one near Corinth.

The BCD office is in contact with the office of the construction company in Abilene and will make information obtained here available to them.

Other meetings are planned as more information is learned as to the needs of the crews that will be on the job.

Work has not started on either of the sites near Hamlin and no date has been released on when they will be started.

It is estimated that up to 650-700 workers will be hired to work on all 12 sites.

The project is expected to take 14 months to complete.

Essay Winner Stresses Need for Community Improvement

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following essay, by Lana Lancaster, was first place winner in the Industrial Essay Contest which was sponsored by the Hamlin Board of Community Development. The essay has been enrolled in competition with others in West Texas which is being sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Winner in the area contest will receive a $250 scholarship to any West Texas college or university.)

"WHAT WEST TEXAS CAN DO TO HAVE MORE INDUSTRY—AND HOW MY TOWN CAN HELP."

To develop and prosper, an area or community must have industry, because industry means economical development. Industry brings people because it provides employment. It brings prestige, honor, and prosperity to a community, and makes it possible growth. Industry means prosperity for manufacturers through additional labor, retailers through additional customers, professional men through added clients, real estate and construction men through increased land values and more building, local press through new readers and more advertising, labor groups through more and better jobs, farm groups through a better local market, and local government and civic associations through added interest and assistance. Thus, industry is prosperity.

West Texas is dependent on industry. Before it can gain power and prestige in the State and Union it must have industry; it must believe in itself and its own power. The people of West Texas must get behind our organizations and the purpose of finding industry. They must back the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and plan and work with this organization to bring interest and industry to West Texas. West Texas can strive to get a greater water supply. Rivers can be dammed and larger and better lakes can be built. Highways, railroads, and bus transportation can be improved, providing greater facilities for transportation. Perhaps, however, the most important factor in bringing industry to West Texas is the individual community. If communities will strive to better themselves and bring industry to their towns, their efforts will affect other communities, in turn affecting the area. Interest will spread, and West Texas will benefit from each community's prosperity.

Industry depends to a large extent on a community's ability must provide for the basic needs of people. It must provide good homes in attractive neighborhoods, police protection, churches, educational opportunities, satisfactory trade centers, recreation facilities and good schools. Manufacturers must be able to get raw materials and supplies at economic prices, must have probable markets, wage scales, skills, and productivity to estimate their labor cost. They will consider time and expense in setting up operations and the possibilities of encountering zoning difficulties and utilities shortages. If towns have the qualifications, plants will be located in new areas which now have no industry.

Hamlin, Texas has many things to offer industry. Because of its central location, industry can serve people in the surrounding area. Hamlin is fairly close to Abilene, Dallas and Fort Worth. Hamlin is relatively new to industry; therefore there will not be as many strikes and labor problems. Hamlin has excellent transportation facilities, good highways, and railroads. Hamlin has a dry climate; the weather is never exceedingly hot or cold. Hamlin has space for development. The community of Hamlin has a co-operative attitude. Hamlin is willing to back industry, and willing to convince industry to back Hamlin.

Before Hamlin or West Texas can become an industrial center, however, we must overcome certain obstacles. We must prove ourselves worthy of industry. We must set up zoning laws to protect potential industries. First, we must improve our community. Our schools will have to be enlarged and improved. We must set up better recreational facilities, such as golf courses, swimming alleys, public tennis courts, and youth centers. Houses must be built for people to buy and rent. We need better traffic control and a larger fire department. Hamlin should rebuild the air port, because air travel is becoming increasingly important to American life. We need a larger hospital with more and better equipment. We need better hotels and restaurants, that will provide for the many people that industry would bring. All these things can be improved. We, the people of Hamlin, can clean our town and make it a desirable place for industry and its workers. When all these obstacles are overcome, we can continue with our campaign to attract industry. First, we must build a good and efficient Chamber of Commerce. We must provide our community with qualified leaders. These leaders must build and maintain community support; they must draw up a program; and they must make surveys of industries that are available and worthwhile for our community. We must have committees to attend to legal matters, finances, the cost of building and maintenance, surveys, site selection, the finding of vacant buildings, transportation, zoning, finding prospective industries, and handling the inquiries of prospects and investigating these prospects. When a manufacturer becomes interested in Hamlin, we must do our best to maintain and to deserve its interest. Inquiries should be answered within two days; answers should be brief and to the point, giving all information. Being persistent with sound judgement and tact will keep the inquirer interested; a personal call will add more good feeling. When we get an industry, we must keep our promises so that good feelings can be maintained. The See ESSAY, Page 2

TRAFFIC HINTS

by J. L. McCurdy
chief of police

Double parking is a very dangerous practice. It is especially dangerous in the downtown area where traffic is the heaviest. When you are double parked you are blocking an entire traffic lane, thereby throwing double traffic in the lane nearest you on the left.

This could very easily cause a wreck. If not with your own car, possibly with two or more other cars. In the event of a wreck whether your car is involved or not, you would be indirectly responsible for the collision and subject to a fine. If, however, your car was involved, you of course would be charged with double parking as well as collision and would be found at fault in court. The law would then be in favor of the insurance company, should they refuse to pay for your damages.

When you double park to load or unload a passenger, you are in danger of being sideswiped or struck from the rear, whereby, the person being loaded or unloaded might be seriously injured or killed. Double parking is extremely dangerous, regardless of your reason for doing it. It will behoove you no end, to give it a lot of thought before you double park again.

The farmers in the Fairview area are all very busy trying to get planted following the small amount of rain. One woman has ruined the old theory that you can't teach an old dog new tricks by getting on a tractor and helping her husband plant cotton. Her name is being withheld to protect the other ladies whose husbands might decide to investigate the method used by her husband to bring this about.

New Star Found For "Kidnapped" Now At Ferguson

An exciting new star in the Stewart Granger mold steps before the critical eye of the public in Walt Disney's "Kidnapped." Technicolor version of the Robert Louis Stevenson high adventure classic showing now through Friday at the Ferguson Theatre.

The highly-talented newcomer is a six-foot, two inch Irishman named Peter O'Toole, whose good looks and honest-to-goodness acting ability rate him a ready for future stardom.

The 26-year-old thespian has a top role in the excellent company of Peter Finch and James MacArthur in the Disney production, which was filmed on location in Scotland and at London's Pinewood Studios. Dial Telephones Are Coming To Hamlin HAMLIN's new dial telephone system will go into service next August.

Telephone central office installers must work on the big job of installing the complicated dial switching equipment in the telephone building.

Dials will be placed on all telephones in the city, but until the change is made, continue to give your calls to the operator — do not turn the dial, as this may interfere with your service.

Then when all work is completed in August, a signal will be given...hundreds of switches will click into place...and Hamlin will have a fine, modern, dependable telephone system.

Methods Given for The Control of Grasshoppers

Young grasshoppers have begun to hatch out of fence rows and pastures are now migrating into fields, garden spots and other areas to feed on tender crops, according to county agent, Kirby Clayton. Although grasshoppers do not pose a serious threat to Jones County crops this year according to the Federal survey, there may be isolated spots where severe damage will result.

An application of 1 1-2 to 2 lbs. of Toxaphene per acre on pasture land or fence rows should give satisfactory control, and there is no required interval between application and grazing by most animals. Four ounces of Heptachlor per acre is also recommended, but cattle on the treated area must be removed for a period of 7 days. Other chemicals recommended are Dieldrin, Aldrin and Chlordane.

Users should check with county agents office for tolerance before using these chemicals.

Budget Booklet Available from HD County Agent

There is no magic formula for achieving financial security, but there are some guiding principles that any family or individual can use to develop a workable plan. These ideas, tested by many families are given in a publication entitled "On Your Way to Family Financial Security." Space is provided in the booklet for developing your own plan of action.

Copies of this publication written by extension home management specialists of Texas A&M College System are now available from the office of home demonstration agent, Mary Y. Newberry.

For jumbo grasshoppers Clayton recommends poison bait mixed according to the following formula: 100 lbs. bran, 3 quarts Toxaphene or Chlordane, 1-2 gallon lube oil, Blackstrap molasses. Add just enough water to make a thick paste.

This bait should be put out 10 to 20 feet apart in small handfuls along where hoppers are feeding. Too much water in the mixture leaches out the poison and causes it to be ineffective. For further information, check with county agent's office.

ESSAY—

amount of industry we get will depend on how we sell our town.

Hamlin is well qualified for many primary industries. Agriculture is playing an ever-increasing role in Hamlin's development. There are always markets for wheat, cotton, and a large market: people always need meat, milk, cheese, butter and eggs. Hamlin can profit from a meat packing industry. Hamlin can open slaughterhouses for processing cattle, hogs, and poultry. Hamlin should open businesses to distribute the products produced. Supply houses should be opened for the storage of the products of Hamlin.

There are many secondary industries open to Hamlin. Hamlin could have a very profitable textile industry. We have an excellent supply of cotton. We have enough moisture to aid the process by keeping down static electricity. Besides making material, we could manufacture clothing and other cloth products. Having a good supply of wheat, Hamlin could have a flour mill. Because Hamlin has a constant supply of petroleum, oil and oil products provide an excellent industry. Gasoline, tires, fuels, and many other oil products provide a n excellent market. Hamlin can easily get the supplies necessary for the manufacture of candy. Hamlin is well qualified for the manufacturing industry, because there is a wide market for our products and they can be easily transported.

To draw interest to Hamlin, we could attempt to get a tourist trade. We could advertise Hamlin as a result community. We could also advertise the springs and Indian carvings east of the city. We could sell souvenirs, clothing for this type of setting, and other vacation and recreation articles. In this way we could interest people in our community and thus interest manufacturers. Hamlin could also renew interest in sports such as tennis, basketball, football, golf, baseball, and rodeos. We should build teams, open concession stands, and advertise to all the country.

Hamlin must learn to make the most of its present industries, such as the Celotex Corp. grain elevators, the Cottonseed Oil Mill, and our oil refineries. These industries help to build interest in Hamlin as an industrial center. Hamlin must learn to co-operate with West Texas as a whole. The purpose of each is the same, and growth in one means growth in the other. When interest develops in West Texas, it will be easier to bring industry into Hamlin. They must strive to make it a community that people want to live in, to work in, and in which to raise their children. Hamlin has a long way to go, but with determination, courage and interest it can become a thriving community, a successful industrial town, or even a prosperous and growing city.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS

Verne Sanford
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, TEX. In a period of deep gloom about state finances, Texans had to pinch themselves to believe the good news.

U. S. Supreme Court ruled that Texas does indeed own its tidelands for 10 1/2 miles out—just as Texans have been claiming for 115 years.

Financially, it's a long-range gain at best. But as a moral victory for Texas principles, it's the biggest thing since the Battle of San Jacinto.

Revenue from the publicly owned land will go into the permanent school fund. Problem of Texas' bankrupt general fund is unchanged.

How much money comes to the school fund will depend on how much oil is under the submerged lands and how good is the market. Money going into the permanent school fund—from mineral leases, royalties, bonuses, etc.—is invested, and only the income from these investments may be used for current school spending.

Thus far, the oil yield from Texas tidelands has been far from spectacular. There have been only 24 producing oil wells and 47 gas wells in 22 years.

But if conditions are promising, oil men undoubtedly will keep trying. As an immediate effect, the state will get some $29,000,000 in mineral payments that accumulated while the issue of state or federal ownership was being thrashed out.

POLITICKING VACATION—Gov. Price Daniel will spend his vacation politicking for U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson.

First stop will be the National Governors Conference in Montana June 26-29. After that, said the governor, he'll vacation and visit around with other governors where he feels he can do the Texas favorite son's cause the most good.

And after that, he will go to the National Democratic Convention in Los Angeles on July 11.

Daniel predicted Johnson would lead on the first ballot at the convention.

ANTI-INCOME TAXES - Voters who oppose the federal income tax and the United Nations will find a haven in the Constitution Party.

Like the Republicans and Democrats, the Constitution Party will hold a state convention June 14 to name delegates to a national convention.

At a preliminary meeting in Austin, delegates were selected and instructed to work for a ticket headed by J. Edgar Hoover for president and Tom J. Anderson of Nashville, Tennessee, for vice president.

Constitution Party also nominated candidates for all statewide offices except governor. Gubernatorial nominee was omitted, because if he should receive 200,000 or more votes in a general election, state law would require the party to go the expensive primary nominating route next election year.

HOSPITAL NEEDS GROW—Deficit or no deficit, the State Hospital Board says the hospital system has increased money needs that must be reckoned with.

Board has voted to ask the Legislature for a $10,000,000 appropriation for the 1961-63 period. This would be $34,000,000 more than the present allocation.

Part of the extra funds, about $2,000,000 a year, would go to hire extra people so present staffers could change from the present 44-hour week to a 40-hour week. Board has recommended this change to put hospital employees on equal footing with those of other state agencies.

But the main problem, says the Board, is that the hospital system is getting more and more patients and needs more money to take care of them. In addition, it has the problem of caring for many oldsters.

YOUTH NEEDS CITED—Another state agency with a story of urgent need for more state support is the Texas Youth Council.

Youth Council has the responsibility for trying to stem the tide of rising juvenile delinquency and also to provide homes for children who have none of their own.

For this task in 1961-63 the Council is asking for $13,695,636 appropriation—up by some $3,500,000 from the present.

Some of this would be used for new construction at the Gatesville Training School for Boys, Gainesville Training School for Girls, a state home for orphaned Negro children and for additions to the Waco and Corsicana State Homes for orphans.

It would enable the Coun-oil to set up a parole supervision staff to follow up on the rehabilitation of youngsters from training schools.

SHORT SNORTS

E. W. Killian has been named by the State Hospital Board to be superintendent of a new state school at Denton which will care for 1,050 mentally retarded patients. Killian has been superintendent of the Austin State School.

Rep. Frank McGregor of Waco withdrew from the race for speaker of the House with a prediction that Rep. Wade Spilman of McAllen would win. McGregor said his poll indicates Spilman has 67 pledges with good prospect to get the nine more needed to win.

Some of Texas' potential statesman of the 1970's will gain early experience in practical politics when 565 senior high boys come to Austin for a five day Boys State meeting ending June 11. Group is divided into political "parties" and elects state officials from the governor down. American Legion sponsors the "laboratory in citizenship" for outstanding teenagers.

James N. Lunlum has left his post as first assistant attorney general to go into private law with Jake Jacobsen, former administrative assistant to Governor Daniel.

Texas farm prices, by mid-May, were down two per cent from a month ago and 10 per cent from a year ago. U. S. Dept. of Agriculture noted that livestock and livestock products had the biggest drop, .7 per cent from a month ago and 11 per cent from a year ago.

Time to Treat Cattle for Grubs According to Agent

Now is the time to treat cattle for the control of grubs with the new insecticide "Co-Ral" according to County Agent, Kirby Clayton.

The insecticide may be purchased as a wettable powder and diluted to a .5 percent concentration with water one gallon of the .5% concentrate should be applied per animal for effective control, but if the animal has short hair coat and is unable to absorb a gallon of solution at first application, it may be necessary to repeat the application of 1/2 gallon in two to four weeks to insure that each animal receives a gallon of spray. Application may be made from May 1-August 1st.

Sick animals or animals under three months old should not be treated and no animals should be treated with 60 days of slaughter.

A .5% solution of "Co-Ral" will also give control of screw worms, lice, horn flies, and ticks. Repeat application may be necessary in two or three weeks for complete control.

For further information contact your county agent's office.

Driver Attitude is Major Factor in Traffic Accidents

Driver attitude, in the opinion of J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, plays the leading role in a high percentage of traffic accidents.

Driver attitudes are not in-born, but are created and many times can be corrected if caught in time, the safety expert states.

"In dealing with traffic violators and in accident investigations police officers frequently find a driver who is normally a gentleman and considerate of others. Behind a steering wheel, however, he is transformed into a self-appointed daredevil . . . always in a hurry," Musick said.

Musick then listed six sure signs of faulty, driver attitudes:

1. Over-confidence—assuming that everyone else will do just the right thing at the right time.

2. Pride in his past driving record—puffing up over his no-ticket, no-accident record.

3. Faith in his experience—convinced that his experience will get him through. However, experience develops bad habits as well as good.

4. False estimates—relying on guesses, estimates and fiction instead of facts.

5. Self-righteousness—judging his own actions and deciding in favor of himself.

6. Impatience—taking chances and using poor judgment. "Of course, these are only a few of the many problems—attitudes which plague drivers," Musick said. "But they seem to be the ones that crop up most frequently."

"Drivers should remember," he said, "to expect only the best from themselves . . . and the worst from other motorists."

Havana has a population of about 780,000.
